Corporate Profile

FutureTech Systems, Inc is a fast-growing provider of imaging, back file conversion and networking services with a specific focus on front-end document capture and back-end information/content management applications.

FutureTech Systems, Inc, based out of Hasbrouck Heights, NJ has been in business since 1991 and is focused on providing our customers with solutions and the technology expertise that will address their business challenges. In addition to our senior management team, who have an average of over 20 years industry experience, our team of certified product specialists, sales and business development personnel add value through our coverage model, account relationships and technical skill sets.

The core values of the company emphasize on understanding customer needs as the first and foremost priority. Analyzing the customer needs and coming out with a solution bereft of any product bias is the aim of every professional working in the company. All sales and technical personnel are trained and certified on all the solutions we implement and support. For specialized services that we are not experienced at, external consultants/partners are engaged, thereby, making sure that our customers only get the best service and value when working with us.

We have identified business issues related to processing of documents in various industries and formed strategic relationships with leading software vendors in various aspects of imaging.

We pride ourselves on the development of strong industry relationships and have attained the following vendor recognitions:
